

Trustmark's Billing Consolidation

Providing value is more than just a quality product. Value is also measured in the customer service and flexibility offered to meet employers' needs. Aside from aiming to deliver the best in voluntary benefit products, we make things easy by providing a billing consolidation process at no extra cost to employers. Here's how it works...

Simple, Accurate Billing

Trustmark loads payroll deduction data into their billing consolidation system.

The employer submits one payment along with a file of voluntary deductions taken for each employee. Trustmark handles the billing reconciliation and payment.

Note: Trustmark's billing consolidation services are not standard for all cases. Fees and restrictions may apply.

Voluntary Benefits

Employers want it, how do they get it?

Billing consolidation saves employers time and energy, so how can they get it? The requirements are simple and straight forward.

- 1. Product suite offered must be at least a 2:1 ratio (two non-Trustmark products to one Trustmark product).
- 2. Benefits must be accessible through an automated interface.
- 3. Group products can only be billed if we can reconcile premium at an individual level.
- 4. Case size must be at least 500 eligible employees.

Multiple benefits, satisfied employers

Billing consolidation is designed to make an employer's life easier and that translates into one thing: time. Employers can now focus their time and energy on larger initiatives such as enhancing benefit plans, adding wellness programs, or other company initiatives.

Trustmark has partnerships with more than 70 companies to support billing for a range of products including:
