

Apply for exemption by December 31, 2022

Your Trustmark insurance protection qualifies you to apply for exemption from the new Washington state payroll tax for the WA Cares Fund Program. With your Trustmark coverage, you'll still have protection against long-term care costs.

The deadline to apply for your tax exemption is coming soon – Dec. 31, 2022 is the final day to submit your application.

Here are a few things to know:

- Trustmark has you covered. Once you have a policy, your rate won't increase due to age. You can also keep your coverage for life, even if you change jobs, retire or move out of state.
- Trustmark will provide you with proof of coverage, including an annual statement. You may at some points be asked for proof of your coverage. Access policy information via the Trustmark Voluntary Benefits Portal.
- The tax goes into effect on July 1, 2023. You have until December 31, 2022, to apply for exemption.

Applying for your exemption is easy: just follow the link below and fill out the State of Washington's form.

Ready to get started?

Apply for your tax exemption

(You will need a Secure Access WA account to apply. If you don't already have one, click here, then click "Sign Up!")

How can long-term care benefits from Trustmark help?

